3. for natural person on a lump sum basis

You are a Swiss taxpayer, on a lump sum basis.

Regardless of the basis itself, the main issue is the control calculation, which should be completed correctly, especially to recover the Swiss withholding tax or/and the other tax at source from some other countries.

It seems quite simple at first sight, but it could be much challenging. A new law enterred into force in January 2021, with some changes. Last but not least, the tax residence could always be a main issue, particularly with some foreign countries.

Swiss Tax Services SA is able to complete this form, but is mainly able to provide the right advice to reduce tax liabilities and to obtain a good tax situation.

Swiss Tax Services SA provides also the usual services, such as tax domiciliation through the year in order to follow the tax schedule without penalty, delay or late interest. Finally, just to simplify your tax paperwork.

4. for legal entities with their head office in Switzerland

The company has its head office in Switzerland. It is subject to corporate tax and capital tax, based also on a cantonal law.

The tax administration has to analyse the financial statement, which must be done correctly. The first step is therefore to keep the accounts accuretely under the Swiss law.

That said, tax authorities could change or modify the final tax result to increase the profit. This is where Swiss Tax Services SA could bring a real added value.

The global Swiss tax rates are the following, considering a reduction from 01.01.2020.
